College Vision
We aspire to be one of the best public urban business schools by applying sustainability and ethical perspectives to our understanding of business practice, global leadership, innovation, the economy, and society.

College Mission
We are San Francisco’s public business school. We embrace the area’s rich diversity and provide access to higher education. Our mission is to prepare students for professional success through high-quality teaching, innovative and relevant courses, discipline-based and pedagogical scholarship, and engagement with the academic and business communities.

The College of Business offers undergraduate, graduate, and executive business education, providing a broad and exciting array of courses of study and concentrations.

The student body is diverse, reflecting not only the San Francisco area, but also the large number of international students who choose San Francisco State University’s College of Business. In 2004, the College awarded more undergraduate business degrees to Asian Americans than any other institution in the United States. As feminist Gloria Steinem once said: “Go to San Francisco State. It’s the only campus that looks like the world.”

The College of Business at San Francisco State is among the least than 25% of business schools in the US and 15% of international schools that are fully accredited by AACSB International, The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.

The College of Business is constantly evolving. It continues to invest in the quality of faculty, students and the visibility of the College brand.

Facilitating Access
Building on a tradition of offering broad access to diverse students—both traditional students and working adults—the College of Business will offer classes morning, afternoon and evening, on weekdays and weekends, on campus and off at affordable prices.

Intellectual Capital
The College of Business strives to reinforce basic skills and substantive business knowledge that can be adapted and applied throughout our students’ careers. We do so in a setting that promotes inquiry, respects differences, tolerates dissension and encourages lifelong learning.

Engaged Learning Partnership
As a learning community involving faculty, staff, students, administrators, and business professionals, the College of Business will work as a team in pursuit of learning, shared discovery, and intellectual inquiry, establishing active external partnerships with local and global communities.

Knowledge Creation & Dissemination
The College of Business faculty is committed to the study, understanding, advancement, and diffusion of knowledge through research that improves global business practice. While the California State University focuses on applied research, the College of Business encourages all forms of quality research.

Ethical and Professional Management
The College of Business strives to manage our enterprise in an exemplary manner, respecting the principles of shared governance, effective leadership, and faculty/staff service.

San Francisco Mindset
The College of Business celebrates the fact that our school reflects our community and the greater San Francisco community is among the

Invest and Leverage Our Brand to Sustain Competitive Advantage
The College of Business consistently invests in its brand to sustain a competitive advantage in the dynamic market. Brand visibility is key to growing new revenue from graduate enrollment, corporate partnerships, and executive education.

Build Corporate Connections
The College of Business reaches out to the corporate community to build a cohesive connection between industry and academia. The College of Business Enterprises (COBE) is the platform that allows our partners to connect with the college, faculty and our students.

Friend-Raising and Fundraising
The College of Business cultivates relationships with alumni and friends and values their enthusiasm to connect students to industry. These unique partnerships allow the college to make philanthropic investments that drive fundraising initiatives.

At the operational level, the core values guiding the College of Business decision-making and behavior are:

- courage,
- life of mind,
- equity,
- community and
- resilience.

There are five strategic initiatives in the College of Business:

Invest in Faculty and Academic Excellence
At the College of Business, we pride ourselves on our world-renowned faculty and invest in their scholarly work. We uphold academic excellence and commend each of our faculty members for their contributions to the college and the impact they have on our students.

Invest in Our Students Through Scholarships and Careers
The College of Business guides students as they grow as leaders and contributors in the Bay Area and beyond. We acknowledge students’ academic and personal achievements and encourage continuous progress toward learning and career opportunities.
