

LOWER-DIVISION GENERAL EDUCATION

For an overview of the SF State General Education program, visit our Introduction to General Education (<http://bulletin.sfsu.edu/undergraduate-education/>).

Please note that although General Education courses are available to students in any major, registration in some sections of specific courses may be restricted to students in the Metro Academies.

Some students come to SF State with high enough AP, CLEP, and IB scores to receive college credit. Go to the following link to see what GE requirements are satisfied by these scores. Consult with your major department to see whether any of the credit can count toward your major.

AP – IB – CLEP Test Credit (<http://bulletin.sfsu.edu/undergraduate-education/standardized-external-examinations/>)

Students Entering SF State Prior to Fall 2014

Continuing students who were enrolled at SF State prior to fall 2014 follow the General Education program that was in effect when they came to SF State, with a few modifications. Please visit the Division of Undergraduate Education and Academic Planning (<http://ueap.sfsu.edu/bacc-reqs/GraduationRequirements/>) for more information about your General Education requirements and approved courses.

Freshman Students

Students who begin at SF State as first-time college students in fall 2014 or later, must complete General Education as outlined below.

Transfer Students

Transfer students who begin at SF State in fall 2014 or later may complete the 39 units of lower-division General Education (GE) requirements (Area A–E), as well as lower-division requirements in a major, minor, or certificate program at another campus if those units have been approved through an articulation agreement or an approved evaluation process. Regardless of the number of units a student took to fulfill General Education requirements at other schools, to graduate they must complete a total of 39 units of lower-division General Education plus 9 units of upper-division GE coursework. Any lower-division GE coursework not taken in transfer must be taken at SF State from the list of courses below.

- Transfer students who have completed Area D but who have not completed the US History and Government requirements must do so at SF State (Refer to US History and Government Requirement (<http://bulletin.sfsu.edu/undergraduate-education/graduation-requirements/#USHaGR>)).
- Transfer students who complete the US History and Government requirements without completing 9 units in Area D must take additional Area D courses to total 9 units.
- Transfer students must complete 9 units of lower-division Area C coursework with at least one Area C1 and one Area C2 course.
- Transfer students must complete SF State Studies requirements. Most, if not all, of these requirements will be completed while satisfying the Upper-Division GE requirements. Students transferring with a verified ADT (AA-T or AS-T degree) who are pursuing a “similar” major do not have to complete the SF State Studies requirements.

Visit our Transfer Students page (<http://bulletin.sfsu.edu/undergraduate-admissions/transfer-students/>) for more information about procedures and guidelines regarding the Associate Degree for Transfer (ADT).

Area A: English Language Communication and Critical Thinking – 9 units

Students taking courses in fulfillment of Areas A1 and A2 will develop knowledge and understanding of the form, content, context, and effectiveness of communication. Students will develop proficiency in oral and written communication in English, examining communication from the rhetorical perspective and practicing reasoning and advocacy, organization, and accuracy. Students will practice the discovery, critical evaluation, and reporting of information, as well as reading, writing, and listening effectively.

In critical thinking (Area A3) courses, students will understand logic and its relation to language; elementary inductive and deductive processes, including an understanding of the formal and informal fallacies of language and thought; and the ability to distinguish matters of fact from issues of judgment or opinion. In Area A3 courses, students will develop the abilities to analyze, criticize, and advocate ideas; to reason inductively and deductively; and to reach well-supported factual or judgmental conclusions.

Requirements: Students who start as freshmen must complete a minimum of nine units in Area A, including a minimum of three units in each of the following three areas: Oral Communication, Written English Communication, and Critical Thinking. Specific test and course prerequisites are printed in the Undergraduate Graduation Requirements section of the Bulletin. Beginning in Fall 2014, all Area A courses must be completed with a grade of CR or C– or better to fulfill the General Education requirement.

Area B: Scientific Inquiry and Quantitative Reasoning – 9 units

In Areas B1–B3, students develop knowledge of scientific theories, concepts, and data about both living and non-living systems. Students will achieve an understanding and appreciation of scientific principles and the scientific method, as well as the potential limits of scientific endeavors and the value systems and ethics associated with human inquiry.

In Area B4 courses, students shall develop skills and understanding beyond the level of intermediate algebra. Students will not just practice computational skills, but will be able to explain and apply basic mathematical concepts and will be able to solve problems through quantitative reasoning.

Requirements: All students must complete a minimum of nine units in Area B including a minimum of three units in each of the following three areas: Physical Science, Life Science, and Quantitative Reasoning. Additionally, a course that satisfies the Laboratory Science requirement must also be taken.

Specific test and course prerequisites are printed in the Undergraduate Graduation Requirements section of the Bulletin.

Note: Some majors require advanced coursework in Areas B1, B2, and/or B3. For students pursuing these majors, some Area B requirements will be met in major or pre-major coursework. For more information, students should refer to the Bulletin description for their major.

Area B4: Quantitative Reasoning (3 units required)

Details on test and course prerequisites are listed in the Undergraduate Graduation Requirements section of the Bulletin.

Summary of Quantitative Reasoning Requirements

The B4 course or pathway that needs to be followed depends on a student’s MATH/QR placement category or ELM/Remediation status. See the holds and alerts box in the student center for more information.

1. Students who have been placed in enrollment category I for Fall 18 and later admission have satisfied the B4 requirement for general education. Please check the requirements for your intended major to verify if a specific math course is required for that major and to confirm whether or not you need to take a math course for your major.
2. Students who have satisfied the ELM requirement or passed Math 70 or ESM 70 with a C or better (prior to Fall 18 admission) or who have been placed in category II for Math/QR placement (Fall 18 and later admission) are eligible to take a B4 course. Please check the requirements for your intended major to verify if a math course is required for your major and plan to take that course to satisfy both the B4 and major requirements.
3. Students who have not satisfied the ELM requirement or not passed Math 70 or ESM 70 with a C or better (prior to Fall 18 admission) or who have been placed in category III or IV for Math/QR placement (Fall 18 and later admission) must take a B4 course with additional support. Category IV students are also required to complete early start. Please check the requirements for your intended major to verify if a math course is required for your major. Check the table below for information about the additional support needed for that course.

Beginning in Fall 2014, Area B4 courses must be completed with a grade of CR or C– or better to fulfill the General Education requirement.

Area D: Social Sciences – 9 units

Through fulfillment of the Area D requirement, students will develop an understanding of problems and issues from a social science perspective and will examine issues in their contemporary as well as historical settings and a variety of cultural contexts. Students will explore the principles, methodologies, value systems and ethics employed in social scientific inquiry.

The CSU American Institutions/US History and Government requirement (Areas D2 and D3) may be met either by examination (AP, CLEP, or SF State competency exam) or by taking at least one course in both Areas D2 and D3.

In U.S. History courses (Area D2), students will learn about the relationships among regions within the area of study and with external regions and states and the role of major ethnic and social groups in such events and the contexts in which the events have occurred.

In U.S. and California Government courses (Area D3), students will learn about the political philosophies of the framers of the Constitution and the nature and operation of United States political institutions and processes. Students will also learn about California government, particularly the Constitution of the State of California within the framework of the evolution of Federal-State relations and the nature and processes of State and local government under that Constitution.

Requirements: Students starting as freshmen at SF State must complete a minimum of nine units in Area D including a minimum of three units in each of the following areas: Social Sciences (D1), Social Sciences: US History (D2), and Social Sciences: US and California Government (D3).

Transfer students must complete a minimum of nine units in Area D. These students may transfer in with Area D satisfied without completing the US History and US and California Government requirements. Transfer students who have not met their US History and US and California Government requirements must still complete these requirements by taking courses from Area D2 and D3 (see below) or by selecting courses from the US History and Government Requirement (<http://bulletin.sfsu.edu/undergraduate-education/graduation-requirements/#USHaGR>).
