

MINOR IN ENTREPRENEURSHIP

RPT 370

RPT 570

Students wishing to explore a start-up, small-business venture, or entrepreneurial venture based on their primary area of study; and who are in need of the business knowledge, tools, skills and experience to pursue such a career path, are encouraged to apply for the minor.

The minor in entrepreneurship is designed as a practical, business-building scaffold to a student's primary area of study, with the goal of enabling and accelerating the student's ability to create a small business or startup.

Program Learning Outcomes

- Demonstrate a familiarity with the entrepreneurial paths and experiences of organizations and individuals from various industries and backgrounds.
- Apply business frameworks to identify and argue for, and justify the customer need for a service or product concept of their choosing.
- Devise and apply consumer testing methodology to access the viability of a service or product of their choosing.
- Utilize fundamental business principles to forecast the financial feasibility of a service or product concept of their choosing.
- Prepare, explain, and defend a business pitch deck.
