

UPPER-DIVISION GENERAL EDUCATION

Upper-Division General Education – 9 Units Minimum

General Requirements

Students must:

- Meet all prerequisites before enrollment in upper-division General Education courses. Minimally, all of these courses have a prerequisite of Oral Communication (A1), Written Communication (A2), Critical Thinking (A3), and Mathematics/Quantitative reasoning (B4). Academic departments may choose to include additional prerequisites.
- Complete the equivalent of at least one 3-unit course in each of the three domains of knowledge: Physical/Life Sciences (UD-B), Arts/Humanities (UD-C), and Social Sciences (UD-D).
- Complete at least 9 units of upper-division General Education coursework in residence at SF State.

Note: Although it will be possible to take upper-division General Education courses after the completion of A1, A2, A3, B4, and any other departmental prerequisites, in most cases, upper-division General Education courses are still designed and recommended to be taken after completing 60-semester units.

Students studying abroad through the CSU can petition to have appropriate courses taken abroad count for upper-division GE. These students should consult with the Study Abroad Office (<http://oip.sfsu.edu/sfstateabroad/>) and with the Undergraduate Advising Center (<http://advising.sfsu.edu/>) to get assistance in choosing appropriate classes to meet the required domains of knowledge and to complete the petition process upon their return.
